LEADERSHIP PROFILE

OTIENO COLLINS JUNIOR

CEO, FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

"Remember me as someone who dared to dream beyond his circumstances, led with purpose, served with compassion, and dedicated his life to making the world a better place for others."

- BSc. Economics (in progress)
- Aspiring Economist
- Public Speaker
- Mentor
- Social Impact Advocate

ABOUT THE LEADER

My name is Otieno Collins Junior, a young leader, aspiring economist, public speaker, mentor, and social impact advocate passionate about personal growth, leadership, and community transformation.

I am deeply interested in leadership development, public speaking, entrepreneurship, data analysis, networking, and understanding how people, organisations, and societies can grow.

One of my greatest passions is empowering people, especially young people, to recognise their potential, build confidence, develop leadership skills, and pursue their dreams with purpose.

Through the Centre of Empowerment Organisation (C.E.O), I aspire to contribute to a society where every child has access to opportunities, support, mentorship, and a brighter future.

I value discipline, integrity, consistency, faith, teamwork, and continuous learning. I believe leadership is not merely about holding positions or being recognised; it is about taking responsibility, serving others, inspiring confidence, and creating a positive impact that outlives you.

I am a work in progress, committed to learning, growing, building meaningful relationships, and becoming a better version of myself every day.

My ambition is to build a strong professional identity at the intersection of leadership, economics, entrepreneurship, and social impact:

"My philosophy is simple: grow with purpose, lead with integrity, empower others, and leave every space better than you found it."

ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

As President of the Centre of Empowerment Organisation (C.E.O), I provide strategic leadership, oversee programmes, build partnerships, mobilise resources, and represent the organisation in advancing child empowerment, education, mentorship, and community transformation.

My leadership is guided by purpose, integrity, accountability, and a commitment to empowering others to create lasting social change.

KEY STRENGTHS

My key strengths as a leader are visionary thinking, effective communication, teamwork, strategic networking, adaptability, and problem-solving. I am passionate about bringing people together around a shared purpose, inspiring others to take action, and building partnerships that create meaningful opportunities. My ability to take initiative, learn continuously, and remain focused on long-term goals helps me lead the Centre of Empowerment Organisation effectively, turning ideas into practical initiatives that promote child empowerment and community transformation.

WHAT I WANT TO BE REMEMBERED FOR

I would like people to remember me as a man who lived with purpose, led with integrity, and used his opportunities to make a meaningful difference in the lives of others.

I want to be remembered not merely for the positions I held, the titles I earned, or the success I achieved, but for the people I inspired, the lives I touched, and the opportunities I helped create.

Through my leadership at the Centre of Empowerment Organisation, I aspire to build a legacy where children are given hope, young people discover their potential, and communities become stronger through compassion, mentorship, and collective action.

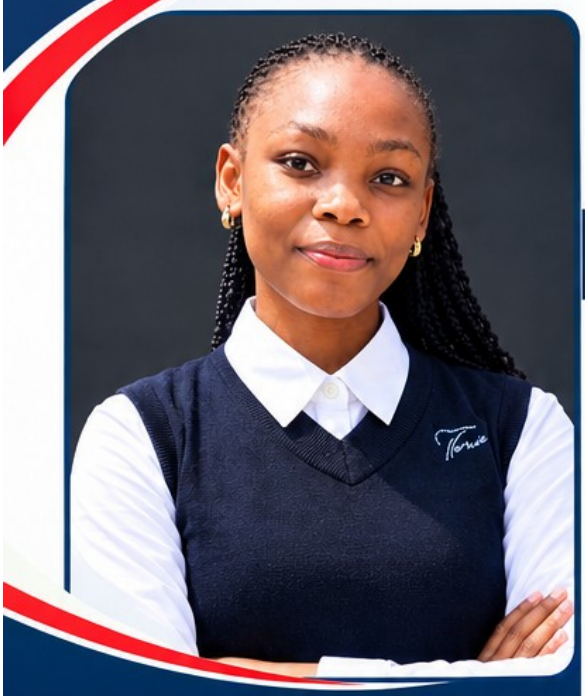

I want people to remember my courage to dream, my willingness to learn, my resilience in difficult moments, and my commitment to growing while helping others grow. I want to be someone whose words inspire action, whose leadership creates opportunities, and whose presence leaves people better than I found them.

Above all, I want my life to demonstrate that greatness is not measured by how many people know your name, but by how many lives become better because you lived.

My ultimate goal is to leave behind a legacy of empowered people, transformed communities, and opportunities that continue to change lives long after I am gone.

LARINE KEZIAH

FINANCE DIRECTOR

"My name is Larine Keziah. I am a passionate, committed, and service-oriented person who believes in making a positive difference in the lives of others. My greatest passion is serving people with love, compassion, and humility."

- BSc. (in progress)
- Finance Director
- Team Player
- Community Advocate

ABOUT THE LEADER

My name is Larine Keziah. I am a passionate, committed, and service-oriented person who believes in making a positive difference in the lives of others. My greatest passion is serving people with love, compassion, and humility. I have gained experience in facilitation, leadership, teamwork, and community engagement. I am always willing to learn, grow, and challenge myself to become a better person and leader. I believe that everyone has something valuable to contribute to society, and I am committed to using my skills, experiences, and abilities to empower others and create meaningful change in the community.

ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

As the Finance Director of C.E.O Organisation, my role is to oversee financial planning, budgeting, and the proper management of the organisation's funds. I help prepare budgets for projects and activities, monitor income and expenditure, maintain financial accountability, and ensure that resources are used responsibly and transparently. I also contribute to fundraising initiatives, financial reporting, and decision-making to support the organisation's goals. My responsibility is to promote honesty, accountability, and transparency while ensuring that available resources are used effectively to make a meaningful impact in the lives of the people we serve.

KEY STRENGTHS

My key strengths as a leader are compassion, accountability, teamwork, communication, commitment, and willingness to learn.

- Compassion: I genuinely care about people and their wellbeing. This motivates me to serve with love, understand people's needs, and contribute to initiatives that empower vulnerable individuals and communities.
- Accountability and integrity: As Finance Director, I understand the importance of honesty, transparency, and responsible financial management. These qualities help me build trust and ensure that the organisation's resources are handled appropriately.
- Teamwork and collaboration: I believe that meaningful change happens when people work together. I value other people's ideas, respect different opinions, and encourage collaboration in achieving our common goals.
- Communication and facilitation: My experience in facilitation helps me engage with people, share ideas, listen to others, and contribute to productive discussions and activities.
- Commitment and responsibility: I take my responsibilities seriously and strive to fulfil my duties with dedication. I am willing to contribute my time, energy, and skills to help C.E.O Organisation achieve its mission.
- Willingness to learn and grow: I recognise that leadership is a continuous learning journey. I welcome feedback, learn from challenges, and seek opportunities to improve so that I can become a more effective and inspiring leader.

WHAT I'D LIKE TO BE REMEMBERED FOR

I would like people to remember me as a leader who served with love, led with integrity, and remained committed to making a difference in the lives of others. My leadership philosophy is that true leadership is not about having a title or being above others; it is about being willing to serve, listen, support, and empower people.

I aspire to be a humble, accountable, compassionate, and dependable leader who leads by example and inspires others to discover their potential. I believe that even the smallest act of kindness can create a meaningful impact when it comes from a genuine heart.

My vision is to contribute to a society where everyone, especially vulnerable children and individuals in need, has an opportunity to feel valued, supported, and empowered. I want my contribution to C.E.O Organisation to go beyond completing responsibilities; I want it to help build a culture of unity, teamwork, transparency, and sustainable community impact.

Above all, I would like people to remember that I did not lead only to be seen, but to serve; not only to speak, but to take action; and not only to achieve personal success, but to help others grow and succeed. I want my leadership to leave a positive legacy of love, service, integrity, and meaningful change.

LEADERSHIP PROFILE

ABOUT THE LEADER

I'm Lamecks wamukota. The change architect I love associating with people around me.I like it when I see some of people close to me win life.

ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

My Role as a Change Architect in C.E.O Organisation:

As a Change Architect, my role is to design, guide, and sustain transformation that aligns people, systems, and culture with the vision of C.E.O.

KEY STRENGTHS

My strength is not just driving change myself, but creating other leaders who can drive it.

I identify potential in team members, mentor them, and equip them with the right skills and mindset to own the transformation. Instead of people depending on me, I empower them to become change champions themselves.

How this helps C.E.O Organisation.It makes change sustainable. The organization doesn't go back to old ways when I leave - because the capacity to lead change remains within the people.

WHAT I'D LIKE TO BE REMEMBERED FOR

I want to be remembered as the leader who saw potential in people when they didn't see it in themselves, who had the courage I aspire to be remembered as a leader who built leaders, not just followers, and built a future, not just a moment.
